School Opening Delayed

School opening this year was delayed because of the controversial issue of busing. The issue was dropped by Judge William E. Miller pending on a decision which was before the Supreme Court. Confusion reigned despite the suspension of the issue. Teachers were moved in order to achieve a certain black-white ratio and school portables were moved back and forth in order to accommodate the students who would have been transferred. All in all Hillwood students found themselves a little closer to their school and their friends when allowed to return to Hillwood for the school year 70-71.

Dedication Goes to Two of Hillwood's Finest

Since Hillwood is made up of both a Senior High and a Junior High the annual staff of 1970-71 felt the need to dedicate the book to two teachers, one from each section. What is it that gives a teacher the respect and admiration of his students? Is it his qualities as a teacher, his personality, or the hundreds of little things he does for the students? The Senior High teacher whom we chose has all of the above characteristics and more. The Topper Staff dedicates this book to a man who has served unselfishly as Student Council advisor, sponsor of the senior class, English teacher, creative writing instructor, and friend of the student; Mr. Albert Gaines, affectionately known as "Mr. Chips." To the man who has given us so much, we give this honor.

In the heart of every school there will always be found one special kind of teacher, the kind who is inevitably found behind or in the center of all forms of student activity. Such is the kind of teacher to whom the 1970-1971 Topper wishes to acknowledge for her dedicated efforts and genuine concern for all with whom she is associated. When the Junior High students needed a student council sponsor, she answered the call and became a constant source of new ideas. She also helped lead the Student Affairs Committee through their most successful year. As a teacher, she has come to be considered a true friend and respected educator. To you, Mrs. Burdett, we express our gratitude on behalf of the Junior High Student Body.

Toppers Gain New Freedoms

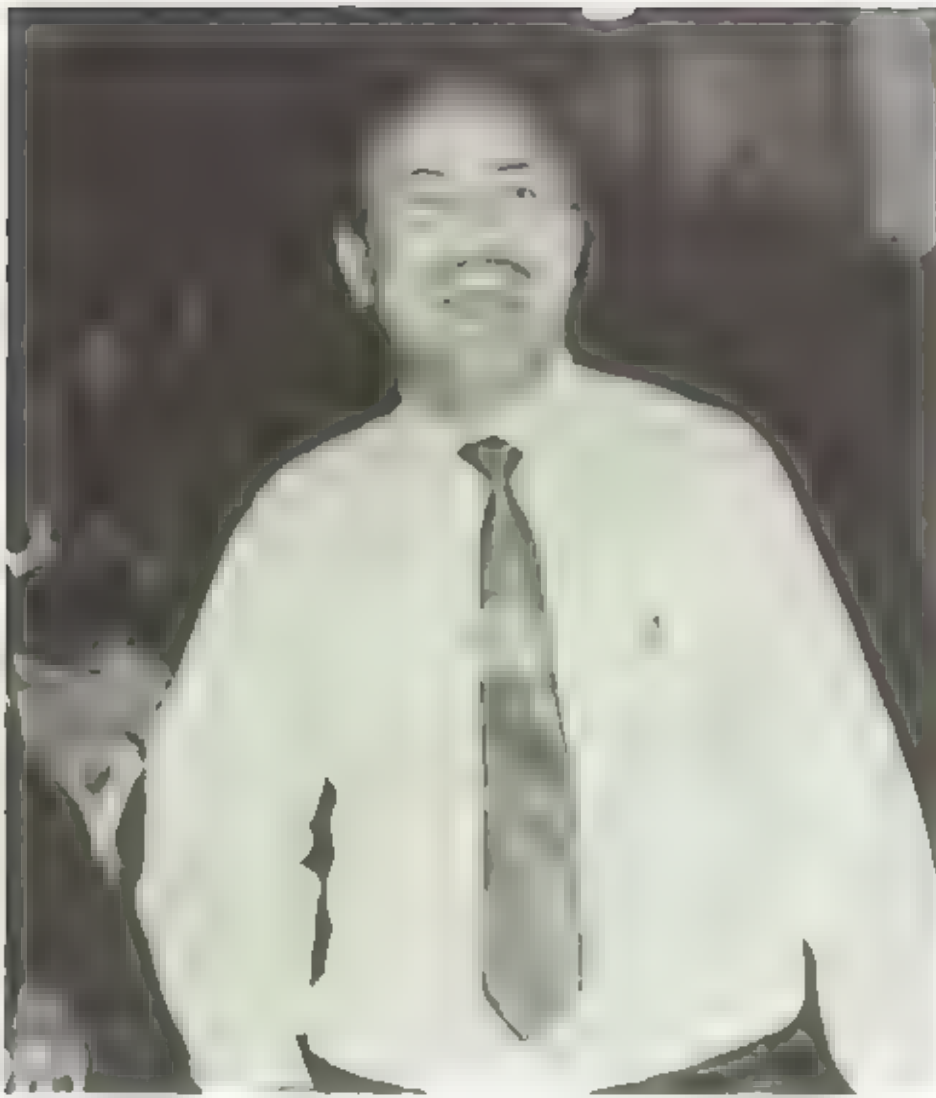

Hillwood gained much freedom this year through the establishment of a new dress code. The Student Affairs Committee worked diligently with the administration in order to create a dress code pleasing to all. The girls were allowed to wear slacks and skirt length whether it be mini, midi, or maxi was left up to the individual. For the boys the code dealt mainly with hair—it was decided that it may touch the shirt collar. Sideburns, mustaches, and beards were left up to the individual. It was also decided that it was not mandatory for the boys to wear socks.

Lower Left — What a pep rally!

Lower Right — Bill Moore and Betsy Cohn decide two heads are better than one.

Hilltoppers Enjoy Winning Year

Spirit and determination did not show up in pep rallies as much as it did on the field of competition. The Hilltoppers went to the Butter Bowl in football and to the March of Dimes Triple Header in basketball. Student spirit went high whether supporting Hillwood teams in athletics or in academic competition. Excellent academic achievement was shown when a Hillwood team of scholars was able to defeat Goodlettsville High on a television quiz program. Academic success was also achieved in some of the forensic and mathematical contests in which Hillwood competes annually. Competition truly brought the students together in a determined effort to win.

October 4th Excitement

On the night of October 4 it was cool and crisp with just a touch of autumn in the air. As the football players ran into the field, the crowd was led by the cheerleaders in a deafening roar. This was the beginning of Homecoming '70. At halftime, Julia O'Donnell was escorted onto the field by Mason Barrick where she was crowned Homecoming Queen by John Barbero. At the end of the crowning ceremony, Julia and her court waved to the crowds as they circled the field on a green and white float. Homecoming was a great success with the Toppers stomping Cookville. After the game, students crowded into the cafeteria for the Homecoming dance with the Tinted Glass playing. The huge football collage, the goal posts at each end of the cafeteria and the green balloons with Hillwood Homecoming printed on them supported the theme of "Football '70"

Homecoming Royalty

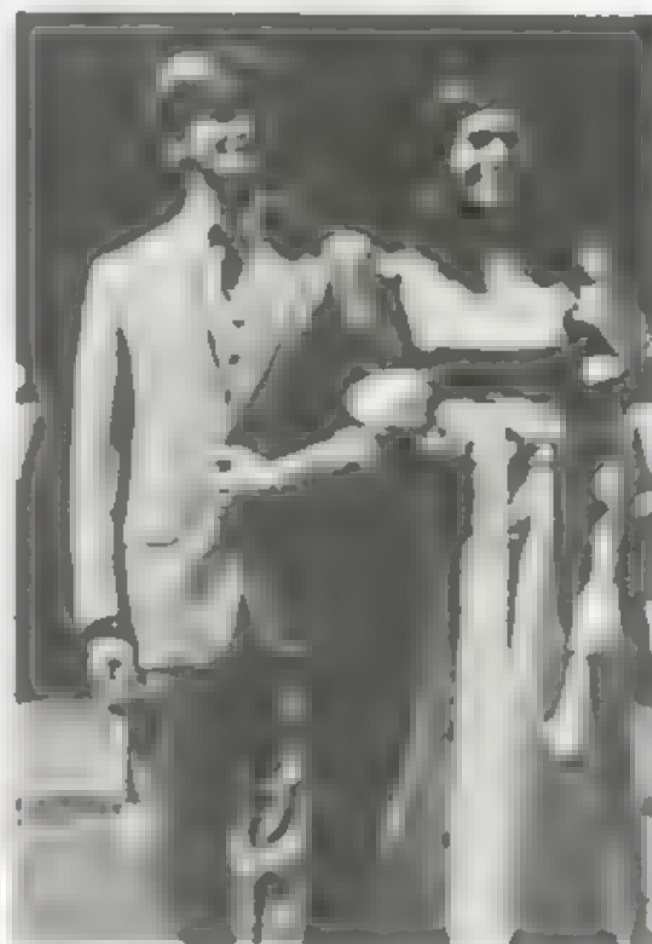

Queen Julia and her court presided over halftime activities with the crowning ceremony and the parade around the field on Hillwood's first Homecoming float. The Queen's court was senior attendant, Sandy Amick and her escort, Neel Rideout; junior, Amy Hines and Lawson Newton; sophomore, Frances Williams and John Cox; and freshman Jill Thomasson and Ricky Eatherly

Winning Teams Spark New Enthusiasm in Pep Rallies

Pep rallies at Hillwood this year took on a greater and more exciting enthusiasm. The cheerleaders did excellent jobs in promoting school spirit with their various skits and new cheers. The favorite skit for the students was when flour would be poured on a teacher's head when the student's yells became loud enough. Among the favorite "victims" were Mr. Roper and Mrs. Fanning. Another good skit was on the day before Halloween when Donna Davis and Donna Weimerskirch posed as green Hillwood witches and cooked the Pearl Tigers in their boil pot.

All Fun — Then Exams

Fun and satisfaction of helping others, lunch hours filled with gossip and the hum of many voices, the frenzy of cramming for exams—all this was part of the student's life at Hillwood. From the very beginning of September, students were caught up in the spirit of the football games and Homecoming, only to be followed by preparations for the mock election and the Christmas assemblies. Mid-terms brought a serious atmosphere—at least for a week.

February: Heart Week

Due to snow, Heartweek was postponed several days. Friday, February 12th, was "First Grade Day." Everyone dressed in the latest attire of bobby socks, tennis shoes, and pig tails. Monday, everyone returned for topsy-turvy day in which the students taught the classes. Tuesday, singing valentines were sung, and on Wednesday teachers had an assembly in which the teachers dressed up as students.

Food at a Sidewalk Cafe: Thrills on the Tempest; Carnival 1970

Carnival 1970 was sponsored by the Men's Club. The purpose of the carnival was to raise money to be used for various Hillwood activities. Many of the school's clubs chipped in and added several bright and exciting attractions to the event. The Key Club boys were very cheerful in volunteering their services as targets for their splash booth. Another delightful attraction was the sidewalk cafe, sponsored by the French Club in which homemade pastries and ginger ale was served. Perhaps the funniest touch however, was the pie booth in which the cheerleaders bravely agreed to be targets for pie-throwing students. The carnival offered many thrills on such rides as the Tempest, the Rock 'n Roll, and of course the good ole standby-the ferris wheel. The close of the carnival was wrapped up in the drawing for the new 1970 Maverick given away by the Men's Club.

Toppers Experience the Thrill of Winning

Three new coaches, fourteen seniors and a crop of dedicated young players sparked Hillwood to a winning football season. In the words of head coach Richard Graves, "We put it all together!" Although the change in Hillwood's grid fortunes was a team effort, many individual stars surfaced. John Barbero and Joey Runion, who together gave Hillwood the best backfield combo in town, were both selected to the All-City team. The durable duo teamed with end Raymond Coffey to sweep many post season awards. Completing a winning season for the first time in six years, Hillwood ended a long football drought and swept by seven stunned opponents

New Coaches Bring New Results to Hillwood

It is not easy to mold outstanding individual performers into a solid team, but that is what Hillwood's dedicated coaching staff accomplished. In his first year at Hillwood, Coach Richard Graves led the Toppers to an outstanding season. Formerly head man at Cumberland, Graves brought youth and enthusiasm to Hillwood's lackluster football program. Due to several coaching resignations last year, Graves and his lone assistant James Dickerson supervised the first three weeks of practice. They were joined just before the first game by Vernon Adcock and Cecil Whitmon. Together the four coaches paved the way for Hillwood's dream season.

Butter Bowl Ends Brilliant Season

After upsetting highly favored Antioch in the season finale, Hillwood received an invitation to play in the 18th annual Butter Bowl game. Several thousand supporters travelled to Pulaski on November 21st to watch the Toppers play Franklin County. When the final gun was fired, defeat had come to Hillwood in a 33-6 loss. Our usual powerful ground attack was held in check most of the sunny afternoon, while the fired up Rebel offense stuck for five touchdowns. Two first period drives carried to Franklin County's three and ten yard line, but both times Hillwood was shut off from paydirt. Except for those early penetrations and Hillwood's lone touchdown, the Rebel defense could not be moved.

Hillwood's seventh and eighth grade football team lost only one game out of their short four game season. Going into the final game the team was undefeated, but Wright Junior High spoiled the perfect record with a narrow win. Coach James Curtis guided the twenty-eight man squad to its outstanding year. Along with the entire student body, Coach Curtis hopes these players will continue to lead Hillwood to victory.

Varsity Cheerleaders Generate Enthusiasm

With our winning seasons, spirit ran high and Varsity Cheerleaders found their job a little easier. Another new addition was the first boy cheerleader, Cliff Hager, who was a great help in boosting spirit.

Team Effort Produces Great Record

Utilizing pinpoint passing and consistent shooting, Hillwood's basketball team compiled a very impressive won-lost record. The Toppers showed the marks of a great team by winning seven games by a margin of four points or less. Hillwood made excellent use of the home court advantage and won eight straight games at home. Rating as the season's high point was a thrilling 43-41 triumph over Cohn which won the Toppers a berth in the March of Dimes tournament at Vanderbilt.

Seniors Form Nucleus Of Team

Hillwood's five senior basketball players exhibited great leadership qualities during the season. Their calmness and confidence in clutch situations spread over into the younger members of the team. Mason Barrick proved to be a great outside shooter and was in double figures more than any other Topper. Joey Runion supplied rebounding power and scored 30 points against Franklin. Another big rebounder was Tim Busby, who also averaged close to 10 points a game. Two other seniors who played frequently were Steve Crabtree and Jeff Boerger. These five seniors formed the backbone of the Topper squad.

Choppin Provides Offensive Fireworks

Seldom has a team depended on one player the way Hillwood did on Nancy Choppin this year. She scored in double figures in every game, and reached a season high of 41 points against T.P.S. The agile lefthander tallied 25 points or more in all but one of the first eight games. Jane Terry teamed with Choppin to form an unstoppable offense. Terry added to the Topper cause by averaging 15 points a game.

With only two seniors in the starting lineup, many young players had a chance to play on the girls' team. Despite facing tough opponents, the Topperettes responded with another winning season. Young Stars Emerge On Girl's Freshman Team

Although they did not achieve a spectacular record, the freshmen girls practiced hard and readied themselves for future varsity competition. Throughout the season, two hard-working girls led the Hillwood team. Sally Workman served as captain of the squad, as well as performing superbly from her guard position. Judy Carver was the team's top offensive threat. Her long basket against Cameron gave Hillwood a one point victory.

Freshman Cheerleaders Create Winning Spirit

Hillwood's wrestling team won seven dual meets this year. In addition, the Toppers came in third place in the Hillwood Invitation Tournament. This tournament attracted many of the best schools in the state as well as an abundance of individual talent. Mike Brewer captured a first place in the Hillwood tourney, the only Topper to do so. Freshman Wrestling: Learning the Techniques

An unorganized season led to much confusion but the Freshman Wrestlers were always ready when the time finally came for a match. The young Toppers proved they had learned the techniques of wrestling by finishing the season with a record of 4-1. This convincing record proved to Coach Cooper Delk that the Varsity has a lot to look forward to in coming years.

Lower Right—Phil Stinson crosses home plate for another run.

Baseball Team Goes to Playoffs

Combining clutch hitting with superb pitching, Hillwood's 1970 baseball team had a great season. After winning several close games, the Toppers of coach Fred Zapp qualified for the N.I.L. play-offs at T.P.S. Hoby Davenport tossed a ho-hit game in the season opener against North. Later in the year, Chip Hunter fired a ho-hitter against once beaten Glenciff for a 3 to 1 Hillwood win. Lynn Tramel's timely hitting gave him the highest batting average in the N.I.L. Other standout batters were Ken Williams, Barry Dean, and Darrell Lankford.

Topper Cindermen Set Records

Coached by Joe Reasonover and led by John Barbero and Ronnie Walker, the Topper track team turned out to be Hillwood's best ever. Walker set school records in the high jump and broad jump. Barbero was selected as the Most Valuable Player in the Optimist Relays at Overton. Hillwood came in third in the district meet, due to the heroics of the same two stars. Walker won the high jump with a jump of six feet two inches and Barbero hurled the discus for a first place finish.

Girl's Tennis: Individual Effort

Some sports require a team effort, and others are strictly individual. Tennis falls in the second category. In tennis, a player pits his skills against those of a single opponent. Hillwood had a good team last year simply because it was composed of skillful individual players. A majority of the players were sophomores and freshmen, so hopes are high for continued success in this sport

Golf's Future Bright

Since the golf team had only one senior, a bright future lies ahead for the returning players. Rusty Ross was the only senior member of the team. Juniors Brian Foreman, Melvin Spain, and Randy Rice also competed. Sophomores Steve Jeffords, Barry Greene, and Jeff Avaritte rounded out the team. James Dickerson was the golf coach.

Swimming: A Splashing Success

Thanks to many dedicated swimmers, Hillwood's first swimming team was organized this year. Practicing year round on this extremely competitive sport, the Hillwood swimmers quickly found success. Competing in the Amateur Athletic Union, the swimmers participated in meets all over the southeast. Some of the best liked pools are at Louisville, Kentucky and Decatur, Alabama

Alphorn Increases In Quantity and Quality

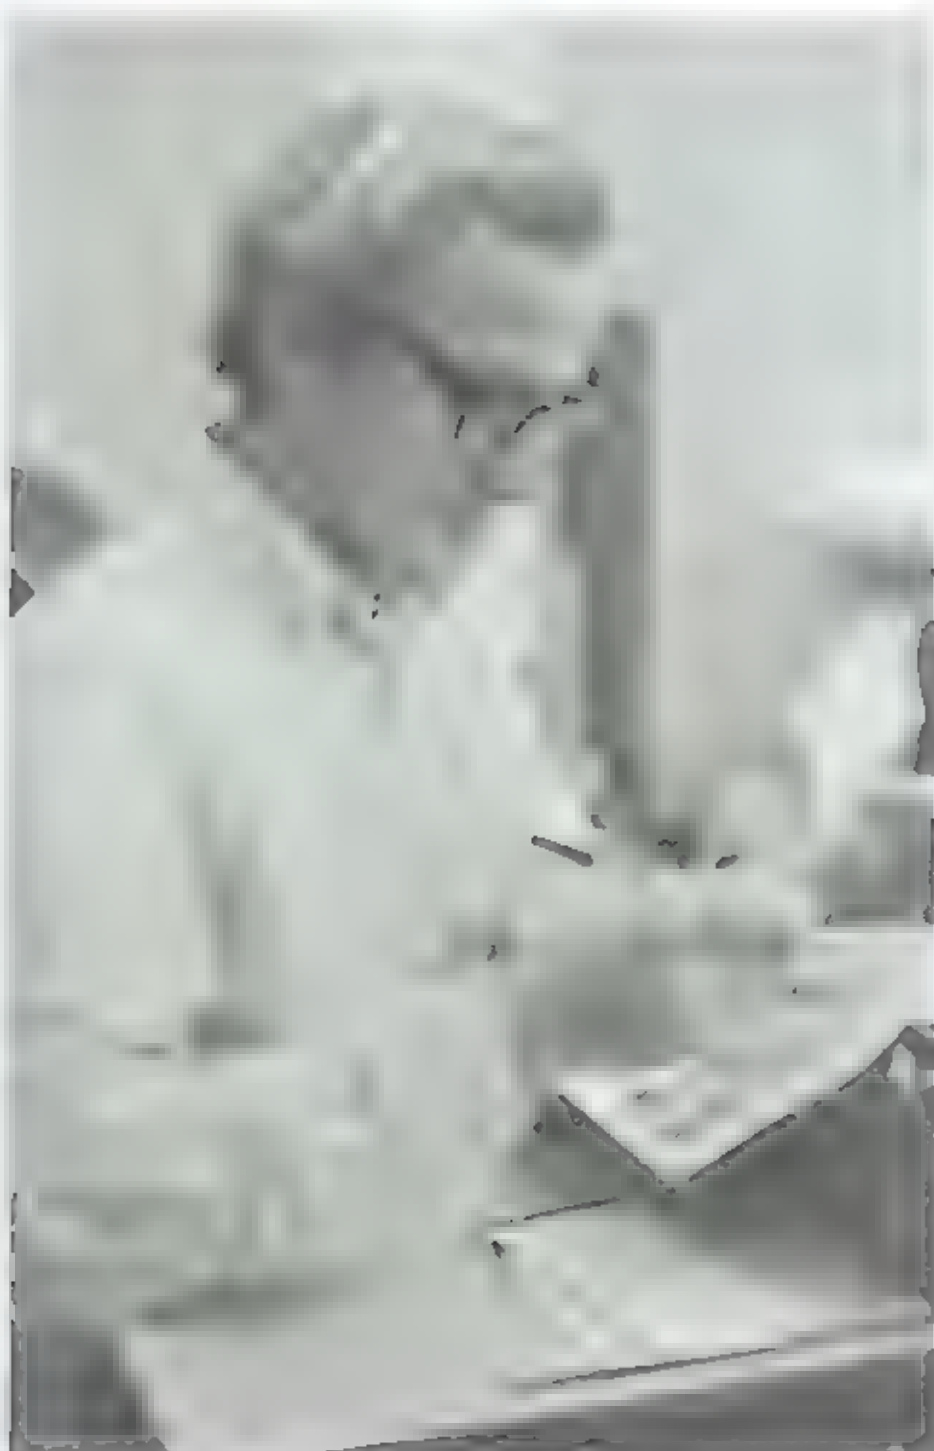

Bigger and better — a true cliché in regard to the "Alphorn" this year. With all editions being no less than eight pages long, editor Jeanne Likins set as this year's goal making the students more aware of their surroundings. Also, increased circulation resulted in the decreasing of prices. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Choppin and Mrs. Goodwin and the business managing of Ken Mulle, the "Alphorn" maintained its excellent rating with the Tennessee Student Press Association.

Art Club Members Win Awards

Various members of the Art Club have won awards in contests sponsored by the Nashville Banner, Peabody College, the Intercultural School Arts Program, and Cheekwood. The club's work is also displayed in their own Art Festival each Spring and in displays around the building. Through money raised in the Christmas Boutique, the Art Club purchased film-strips and other audio-visual aids. Heading the club were President, Judy McElhiney; Secretaries, Sonja Canady and Cindy Price; and Treasurer, Nancy Barry. The Art Club's able sponsor was Miss Senter.

Band Wins Trophy at Christmas Parade

For the first time, trophies were given in the Christmas Parade to deserving bands. Hillwood's band was awarded with the trophy for "Best Musical Rendition". Many individuals won awards. Gil Long was selected to McDonald's All-American High School Band and participated in Macy's Thanksgiving Day and the Rose Bowl Parades. Eight members won seats in the Middle Tennessee Band; seven of these also won spots in the All-State Band.

The band was honored by the presence of Mr. Howard Nicar, President of Tennessee Music Education Association 1969-70, who came to conduct the organization on several occasions. The band and chorus were offered a chance to play in Europe. Hopefully they will make the trip this summer.

Beta Club Helps Campus Environment With Clean-Up Program

With all the talk of pollution and ecology in mind, the Beta Club set out to rid the school grounds of trash. On one afternoon, the members could be seen with trash cans and rakes cleaning up the campus. Another project for this year included program selling at football games. In the spring the club held an induction picnic for old and new members.

Campus Life Institutes Poster Program

Posters placed throughout the building by the Campus Life Club promoted positive school behavior, school spirit, and warnings against the use of narcotics. Another first for the club was keeping in touch with students who are absent for extended periods due to illness. A system of cards and telephone calls was incorporated. President, Becky Becker; Vice-President, Mike Morrison, and Secretary-Treasurer, Jeanne Likins were the leaders of the organization. Mrs. Becker was the sponsor.

H-Club Always Prepared to Lend a Helping Hand

Hillwood's H-Club is composed of students, girls and boys, who have earned school letters in various sports. Annually they hold one large fund raising project for the benefit of the athletic department. Besides this activity, they are always ready to give needed support to any other functions concerning the school. Mr. Graves and Mrs. Wright coordinated the activities for the year.

D.E.C.A. Purchases First School Flag

Hillwood's Distributive Education Club purchased the school's first flag through money raised in their annual fund drive.

Money was also used for Christmas projects.

The club was active in state and regional meetings and members entered various contests, with the winners being awarded ribbons. Each spring there is a city-wide Employer-Employee

Banquet, which the members attend. The club leaders were Miss Neely, Advisor; Neel Rideout;

President; Suzanne Howell, Secretary; and Joe

F.T.A. Receives Teaching Experience

Recceiving valuable teaching experience at Ransom Elementary School was the most important program the members of the Future Teachers Club undertook this year. They also received assistance from Mr. Ed Tipton, Director of Secondary Education. This year, ten members were delegated to attend a convention at Tennessee State University. The officers included Brenda Murray, President; Debbie deRoode, Vice-President; and Becky Becker, Treasurer. The sponsor was Mrs. Floyd.

F.H.A. Holds Foreign Foods Contest

Early in December the Future Homemakers Club held its first foreign foods contest. Members recieved information from foreign transfer students and a film was supplied by the Nashville Gas Company. They also enjoyed Russian, Japanese, and Mexican food. Later in the same month, Open House was held for parents of Home Economics students and alumni. Formal installation of officers and a Mother-Daughter banquet were held in May.

New Concession Stand Helps Bring Financial Success to Key Club

Hillwood's new concession stand, along with the annual candy sale, aided the Key Club in their drive for money. The profits earned were used to renumber the rows in the stadium and for the Headstart Christmas Assembly. Besides selling concessions, the Key Club performed several services for the school and community. These included aiding in the distribution of Big Brother Christmas baskets and numbering portables and parking places. The officers for this year were Mason Barrick, President; Barry Dean, Vice-President; Drew Clark, Secretary; and Lawson Newton, Treasurer. The club was sponsored by Mr. Reid.

President's Club Council Holds Christmas Party

Presidents from all clubs joined together to constitute the President's Club Council. Their purpose was to coordinate the activities of all the clubs and organizations. The main project this year was the Christmas party and the assembly for the Head-Start children.

Perspective Staff Adds Seasonal Supplement

The Perspective Staff increased the number of publications this year with the additions of Seasonal Supplements to the annual magazine. These supplements were sold at Halloween, Christmas, and in the Spring. Under the sponsorship of Miss Brickey and Editor Kathy Cohen, the supplements were mimeographed and sold to the student body. The Senior High Editor was Kathy McCrary, and the Junior High Editor was Robyn Flaum

Red Cross Club Takes Active Part In Service Projects

Through money earned from bake sales and donations, the Red Cross Club performed valuable service projects for the community. This club was particularly active at Christmas time as they prepared Holiday Tray favors for hospitals, Friendship Boxes for foreign students, and Christmas Teen Gifts. However, this was not the only time the club has acted. Last summer several members participated in the Summer Volunteer Program, and some members were counselors at a summer camp.

Pep Club's Activities Create Enthusiasm

With more colorful posters, the Pep Club worked toward greater student involvement in support of school athletics. Closer association with the cheerleaders also helped instill an interest in their teams. Support was given in the selling of pennants, ribbons, and balloons. Under the leadership of Gwen Givens, President; Cindy Ezell, Vice-President; Jenny Oakley, Secretary-Treasurer; and Mrs. Whiteside and Mrs. Peterkin, sponsors, the club succeeded in making this one of the most spirited years in Hillwood's history.

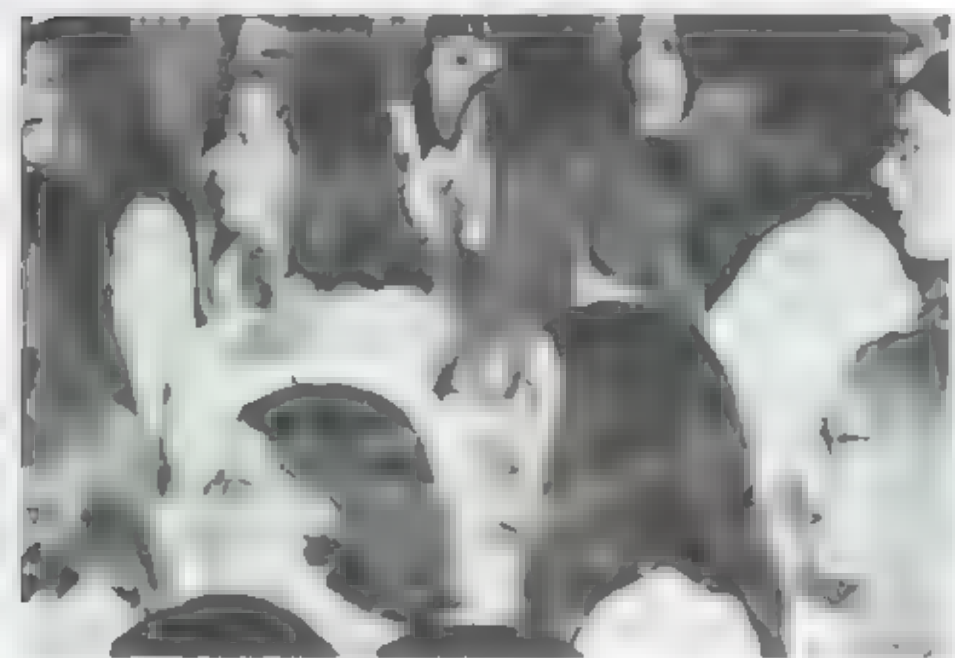

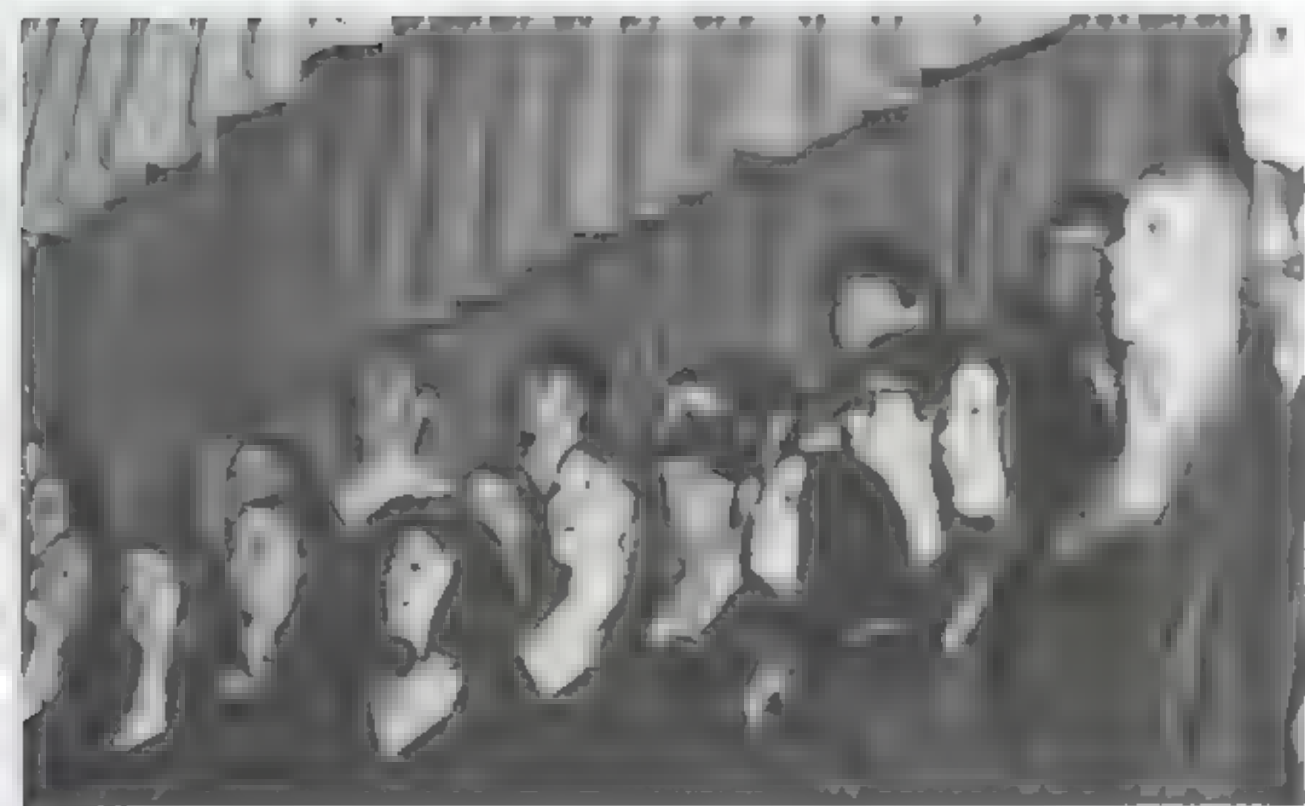

Madrigalians Added to Senior Choir

The Senior Choir formed the Madrigalian Singers this year for the first time. This group performed songs popular in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Centuries. In addition to their traditional Christmas and Spring Concerts, the choir performed The Music Man along with the Girl's and Boy's Glee Club. Seventeen members also participated in the All-State Chorus. On tap for the future is a possible summer trip to Europe

Administration

Leonard Garriott

John Roper

Frederica Rawls

Coordinating a student body of over two thousand two hundred students with its diverse phases of school activity was a job which demanded the greatest perception and understanding on the part of the Hillwood administration. Only through a dedicated effort did these leaders achieve a feeling of unity within our large student body without destroying the importance of the individual. Hillwood students were grateful to these administrators for their openness in dealing with student affairs

Counselors, Librarians, Secretaries

Day after day, situations arose which required the understanding and advice of our concerned guidance department. Whether one needed help in choosing a college, getting a job, planning a schedule, or help with individual problems, one could always find a counselor who was interested and willing to help. Hillwood's library, with the help of our efficient library staff, was well equipped to serve the needs of the student body. Having over fourteen thousand books, the library was an excellent center for research and study as well as for enjoyable reading. Secretaries were a vital part of Hillwood's central office as they worked to provide necessary services and to keep things running smoothly.

English

A written word contains an immeasurable power within its meaning if employed knowledgeably. The English Department wished to give students the opportunity to master the written word and in so doing develop the skills of self expression, literary creativity, and both written and verbal means of communication. Teachers were concerned with promoting an awareness of trends of modern thought as well as promoting the intelligent and independent thought of the individual.

Speech, Business

Of lifetime value is the ability to effectively express one's self with a natural and relaxed attitude before an audience. The Speech Department of Hillwood focused its attention on these objectives along side the development of the student's ability to relate in a logical and creative manner. Speech students found this enrichment to be a tremendous asset in dealing and working with other people in all situations. Preparations were made for students to enter the business world through courses such as typing, marketing, and bookkeeping. These courses were primarily concerned with attaining a workable knowledge of business involvements

Lower Right — Mrs. Lawrence demonstrates the Flip Wilson technique of communication

Mathematics

Advanced math, geometry, algebra, trigonometry, and general math were the courses of study offered by the Hillwood Mathematics Department. Students involved in the mathematical curriculum often found study to be difficult, but the rewarding sense of accomplishment after mastering a particular concept made it a worthwhile. Interested students were given the opportunity to further their knowledge outside the classroom by joining the Math Club. The success of the department was revealed by Hillwood's outstanding representation on both local and statewide competition.

Social Studies

Human relationships are the most complicated and amazing of all involvements found in life. The Social Studies Department offered courses which were concerned with these relationships and with how people have lived, reacted, and progressed. Students experienced new and unique methods of learning as the teachers worked to provide a contemporary atmosphere in the classroom. Courses included in the curriculum were geography, government, world history, sociology, psychology, and economics

Science

Emphasis on laboratory experience is becoming a key to the growth and development of the Hillwood Science Department. The Department has expanded its program to meet the needs of the increasing number of students interested in science. By adding two new members to the faculty as well as adding two new classes to the curriculum, the department now has a greater capacity for fulfilling its obligations to the program. Mr. Adcock and Mr. Whitmon have joined the faculty and the two new lab oriented courses are Interaction of Matter and Energy and BSCS Biology.

Upper Left — Mr. Patterson believes in open, heart-to-heart friendships

Foreign Language

Guten Morgen was a new sound heard in the classroom this year. The Foreign Language Department was fortunate in adding the study of German to its former curriculum including five years of French and Spanish and four years of Latin. Seventh and eighth graders were able to participate in the Language Survey class which offered nine weeks each of Latin, Spanish, French, and German. Language clubs gave students the chance to enrich their education and form a better appreciation of the language.

Upper Right — Mrs. Barnett takes great pleasure in homework papers
Lower Right — Debbie Dicker finds Mrs. Boyd's French class simply amazing!

Art, Music, Physical Education

Numerous phases of art were met and explored by the students in the Art Department. Creative hands and minds ventured into such areas as sculpture, painting, collage, ceramics, and film making. The Music Department offered a wide variety of music appreciation programs through the Senior Choir, Girls Glee Club, Boys Glee Club, Eighth Grade Chorus, general music courses, and a newly formed Madrigal group. Students in the Physical Education Department were given a chance to develop skills which could be applied in many facets of life. Courses included body conditioning, rhythms, team sports, gymnastics, self defense, tennis, and archery.

Seniors of '70 Work Together To Gain "Senior Privileges"

Working for senior privileges, enthusiasm for the Butter Bowl, apprehension in receiving test scores, superiority on Senior Day, excitement for the prom, planning the future and reminiscing the past—these were the Senior's emotions which led to graduation. Selling tickets to the Senior Variety show along with the selling of Topper pennants were the main money raising projects of the class of '71. The senior class President was Drew Clark, Vice-President was Craig Jackson, Treasurer Denise Stinson and Secretary Brenda Murray

Upper—Mixed feelings over Senior Privileges
Middle—Fred Chunn and Cathy Coaker portray Antony and Cleopatra in Mrs. Wilson's class
Lower—Ricky Loyd looks on as Chuck King shows a little leg

Upper—Who says Mickey Mouse is dead?
Middle—Drew Clark presiding over a Senior assembly

Plans For The Prom Evolve as Juniors Engage In Many Money Raising Projects

Bakesales, car washes, powder puff games, buying a class ring, and selling mums—these were the activities which were enjoyed by Juniors. A Bridge Benefit was enjoyed by many while raising funds for the prom. Time, effort, and determination needed to create the prom brought the Juniors closer together

Under Capable Leadership, Sophomores Rise to reach their Highest Heights Yet

Sophomore class sponsors this year were Mrs. Goodwin and Mr. Gehres. They helped the students with responsibilities of this year and provided background for the ones to come. The leaders of this class, Phil Stinson, Neil Hinze, Franci Bianconi, and Leisha Batson, supervised plans to earn money for next year's prom. Selling tickets for the game, painting signs, and using their talents whenever possible were just a few of the concerns of these students. Hillwood's success depended on the '70-'71 Sophomore Class as they rose to meet their responsibilities.

Upper Left — The tall and the short of it, Ted Bach and Cindy Burns.

 Upper Right — Tim Weitand, what is your problem?
 Lower Left — What is on your mind, Colleen O'Rourke?

Freshmen Come Together To Support Hillwood High

Freshmen were where the action was this year. They joined clubs and used their enthusiastic ideas to improve them. Attending the pep rallies and games, these students helped promote school spirit and showed their devotion to the teams. Their attendance and assistance in activities, such as the school plays and the carnival, was a great help to the school. With their usual overflowing interest, the Freshman class aided in making the year '70-'71 a success under the leadership of Johnny Thompson, Gloria Owens, Janel Bellamy, and Lisa Martin. Class sponsors Miss Anker, Mrs. Halsell, Mrs. Luckett, and Mr. Jacks helped them realize that the school needed them. These students learned that they must come together and work for their school.

Upper — Eddie Cohen helps develop pictures for the 1971 Topper Lower Left — Do you have tired, itching, burning feet?

Upper — Class officers Johnny Thompson, President; Gloria Owens, Vice-President; Janet Bellamy, Secretary, and Lisa Martin, Treasurer, meet to get organized.
 Lower Right — Deidra Silbert says, "Once in the morning does it."

Where were you last night?

Confusion Gone — Confidence Reigns

Astonishment is now gone from the young eighth-graders' minds, as they learn more about life. They begin to face problems, along with fun. Ready for adventure, trial and labor, or whatever may pass their way, they strive onward, only to face another day.

Upper — Class officers: President, Lee Waggoner; Vice-President, Lisa Lillard; Secretary, Karen Reynolds and Treasurer, Melissa Stewart.
Lower Left — Cheerleader Becky Holt finds that even cheerleaders have to attend classes.
Lower Right — We better do it right this time!

 Upper Right—Let's hope it tastes better than it looks!
 Lower—Everyone enjoys pep rallies

Upper Right—Mrs. Rhea conducts Hillwood's aspiring musicians

Seventh Graders Begin Jr. High School Life In H. G. Hill

Astonishment and fear dominate the minds of the young Hill climbers. During the year seventh graders learn the ropes and pitfalls in their new halls of learning. Many scholars moved into a new building while some remained, where they spent their first six years of education. The new elementary school provided these extra accommodations, called Hillwood Junior High School.

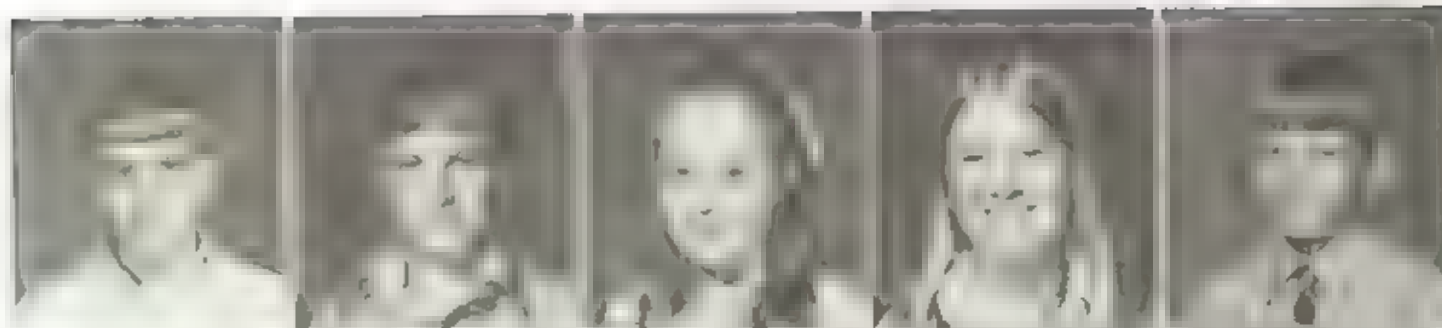

Upper Left—Looking at reflections of life
Upper Middle—Class officers, President, Steve Barrick, Vice-President, Susanne Sadler, Secretary, Bart Anderson, and Treasurer, Harper Sanders running toward the halls of knowledge
Lower—Modern Rembrandts at work

Upper Right—Seventh grade dieters enjoy a few calories
 Upper Middle—Seventh graders buy Butter Bowl tickets from Jill Thomason
 Lower—Hillwood's trusty custodian-Mr. Jim "Jimbo" Burton

HILDGARD
The smartest girl in math, English or science HAH!

Barbara Williams (Zeida) P.S. When's the date for you and Skipper?

To the most beautiful creature on earth that is so smart her brains are coming out of her ears. You can tell it!

Handsome Pat Collins  That's laugh

To a real smart girl in math class. Hope you have many good years

Good luck,
Paula

My best wishes maybe I'll get you in my class next year.

V. Cook

Pam,
Your intellect, co-operative spirit, drive and determination will always be remembered.
Continue to work hard and best earn good grades. I hope of every Mrs. Cook

Pam,

To one of my favorite students
I wish for you
the best of everything

Mrs. Cook

Pam,
This is the third year that we have been together. Remember Brookmeade? I do.
And I will remember this year in English
you were partly because you were there.
Good luck Always
V. Cook

Good luck
I hope you will be a great success
in your future
work. I will be praying for you.
I hope you will
be a great success
in your future
work. I will be praying for you.

So a most great girl. Stay as nice as you are. Love always.

Kathryn Fulton

Dear Pamela

Go remind me of Shirley Temple.

That is a compliment
The Bells ringing. by

Bob Cathey

Pam, to a really good friend!
May luck & love
follow you.
Love ya,
Julie Rybolt

Pam,

You are a sweet girl I don't know what you see in Skip but good luck
with him anyway.
Love Linda

Pamela,
You are cute
sweet + nice
You will remember me always
Love
Sally
